Restrictions on pursuing patent attorney activities; rules of the representation of clients

Section 16

(1) A patent attorney shall not undertake patent attorney activities for such clients who have conflicting interests; he shall furthermore not undertake patent attorney activities if the interests of the client are in conflict with the patent attorney's own interests which are outside of the case. (2) A patent attorney shall not undertake patent attorney activities in cases in which he acted previously

(a) within the framework of his earlier legal relationship established for performing tasks directly related to the exercise of public authority competence,

(b) as public notary, deputy public notary, court bailiff, deputy bailiff, or

(c) as mediator, arbitrator, or in another capacity to help settle disputes, except for the drawing up of an instrument on the settlement reached as a result of mediation and legal representation in related proceedings.

(3) A patent attorney shall not undertake representation in public authority proceedings conducted by an organ exercising public authority or its legal successor with which he had a legal relationship established for performing tasks directly related to the exercise of public authority competence, or where he or she had a legal relationship established for performing tasks directly related to the direction or supervision of such organ or its legal successor, for two years from the termination of that legal relationship.

(4) The patent attorney may not pursue patent attorney activities, which would come into conflict with meeting his obligations to his or her earlier client, unless there is no connection between the earlier and the new case, or if – after being informed – the earlier client consented to this.

(5) The patent attorney may pursue patent attorney activities against his or her earlier employer if his or her employment legal relationship terminated at least three years ago and he or she was not involved in dealing with the given case. The earlier employer may grant an exemption from this or a non-competition clause may provide otherwise.

(6) If the interests of two or more client come into conflict or can come into conflict, the prohibition pursuant to paragraph (1) shall not apply to the patent attorney if

(a) the clients have common interests in the case,

(b) the clients, being aware of the conflict of interests, consent that the patent attorney undertake performing patent attorney activities also for the other client,

(c) there is no danger of breaching patent attorney secrecy, and

(d) the patent attorney can reasonably assume that the conflict of interests would not prevent him or her to represent the interests of all clients in the best possible way.

(7) After accepting of the mandate of agency, the patent attorney shall continuously monitor the possibility of conflicts between the interests of his clients. If in the course of this monitoring he or she finds that patent attorney activities should not be undertaken simultaneously in respect of two or more clients pursuant to paragraph (1), or that the conditions of paragraph (6) are not met, he or she shall denounce the mandate of agency related to the case involving conflict of interest with each of the clients concerned.

Section 16/A

(1) If any restricting ground pursuant to section 16 exists in respect of

(a) any member of a patent attorney office or patent attorney company, or

(b) any employee of a sole practitioner patent attorney, or any employee employed by a patent attorney office or patent attorney company pursuing patent attorney activities, then the restriction shall apply to the sole practitioner patent attorney, to the entire patent attorney office or patent attorney company.

(2) In the case of a restriction pursuant to section 16(3), paragraph (1) shall not apply but the client and the body exercising public authority competence shall be immediately informed of the existence of these circumstances.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not apply, if each mandate of agency is executed with the participation of different natural persons who pursue patent attorney activities, patent attorney secrecy is ensured between these different persons, and the client explicitly consented to this in writing.

Section 16/B

(1) A patent attorney is not obliged to accept a mandate of agency; if he or she declines to accept the mandate of agency, the client shall immediately be notified thereof.

(2) A patent attorney may denounce the accepted mandate of agency in writing at any time, with effect from the fifteenth day after notice to the client; the patent attorney shall take all the steps necessary for safeguarding the rights and legitimate interests of the client also during the period of notice.

(3) The client may at any time limit the mandate of agency or denounce it with immediate effect.

(4) In addition to the case of denunciation, the mandate of agency shall terminate when it has been discharged, upon the death of the client or, if the client is a legal person, upon its termination without a legal successor.

(5) In case of the death of the client or the termination of the client legal person without a legal successor, the patent attorney shall immediately notify the persons known to him or her who may have rights or obligations arising in connection with the case at hand; the above death or termination, and the termination by either party of the mandate of agency shall be immediately notified by the patent attorney to the court or other authority before which the proceedings are under way.

(4) In case the disciplinary board does not take a decision for twice the length of the time limit laid down in paragraph (3), it may apply only the sanction of written reprimand, if it establishes that a disciplinary offense has been committed. In such a case no new disciplinary proceedings may be initiated on grounds of the same disciplinary offense.

(5) If the patent attorney subjected to the proceedings requests a hearing within fifteen days of the notification of the decision taken without a hearing, the decision imposing a disciplinary sanction shall cease to have effect and the chairperson of the disciplinary board shall set the date for a hearing.

Section 24/C

(1) The patent attorney subjected to the proceedings, his or her representative and the investigating officer shall be summoned to the hearing at least eight days before the hearing. The President of the Chamber shall be notified of the hearing.

At the request of the patent attorney subjected to the proceedings or of his or her representative the disciplinary board may exclude the public at any stage of the proceedings.  - (a) the person exercising patent attorney activities is the subject of criminal proceedings because reasonable suspicion exists that he or she committed an intentional criminal offence, excluding criminal proceedings started on private prosecution or substitute private prosecution charges, or
 - (b) the continuation of patent attorney activities would be so detrimental to, or would put at such a risk, the rights and legitimate interests of his clients or the trust of the public necessary for the exercise of patent attorney activities that it would exceed the damage to the interests of the person concerned which would result from suspension of his patent attorney activities.
- (2) If the disciplinary board applied the sanction of exclusion and did not suspend the execution of the sanction, the patent attorney activities shall be suspended by the decision pending the final and binding result of the disciplinary proceedings. An appeal shall lie against this determination but such appeal shall have no suspensory effect.
- (3) The period of suspension shall be six months, and it can be extended once by another period of up to six months.
- (4) Within thirty days of receipt of the disciplinary board's decision on suspension the patent attorney may bring an action before the court against that decision. New proceedings shall also be conducted if in the main proceedings the chairperson of the disciplinary board or a member thereof breached his or her obligations, violating thereby the Criminal Code.

(2) New proceedings against the patent attorney may be initiated only in his or her lifetime and before the expiry of the limitation period [section 25(1) and (3)].

(6) The disciplinary board shall see to it that its final and binding decision on the merits of the case be published in a digital format on the website of the Chamber within thirty days of it becoming final and binding, except if the decision is contested in administrative-law action. The data enabling identification of the persons referred to in the decision shall be masked in such a way as not to prevent learning the established facts of the case.

Section 25/A

(1) In the interest of equity a deserving person who is under the effect of disciplinary sanction may be exempted by the disciplinary board from the further legal effects of disciplinary sanctions
